Biggest Military Budget

In Nation's Peacetime History Submitted To House For Army, Navy and Air Force

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(P)—A record peacetime army-air force appropriation bill was whisked through the House today and sent to the Senate. The measure provides $6,509,939,000 for the two services for the new fiscal year starting July 1.

The passage vote was 346 to 2. The two votes against the bill were Reps. Marcantonio and Isacson, both of the American Labor party, New York.

The House scheduled for debate tomorrow another record peacetime defense money bill—a $3,686,733,250 measure financing the Navy for the next fiscal year.

Funds included for the Army, Navy and Air Force total $10,196,672,250.

Meet For Thursday

The Appropriations Committee also called a meeting for tomorrow morning to draft a multi-billion dollar measure financing the foreign air program.

There were less than two hours debate on the Army-Air Force bill and fewer than 50 members on the floor during the discussion, which was confined to explanations of the bill's provisions.

The appropriations committee at the same time released testimony war of the "alarming menace" that the United States fleet now in the Mediterranean is there for two reasons:

First, to serve as a warning to the Soviet Union not to try to overrun any of the free countries of Europe.

Second, to be ready to remove American forces if worst came to worst.

Could Augment Fleet Quickly

Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations, told the committee just two weeks ago that the Mediterranean fleet of one carrier, three cruisers and 10 destroyers could be augmented quickly.

(A 12 ship task force headed by the Carrier Kearsarge left Norfolk, Va., late yesterday to relieve the vessels now on duty in the Mediterranean.)

Discussing the use of U. S. ships in foreign waters, Denfeld declared:

"Not only is the presence of our ships in certain troubled spots of the world today a clear indication to would-be troublemakers of our determination to maintain the peace; it is also the means, and the only means we possess, whereby we may act swiftly to prevent the overrunning of critical areas by an enemy. x x x

Forces In Europe

"We have in Europe, occupation forces in Germany, in Trieste; we have missions in Greece and in Turkey; and these ships are there to be able not only to evacuate these personnel in case of emergency but also as a show of force to prevent any nation from taking any action which they might take if our ships were not there."

Two separate appropriation bills—given top priority for immediate action—provide $6,509,939,000 for the army and the air forces and $3,686,733,250 for the navy for the year starting July 1.

Their combined total is $505,000,000 greater than the services are spending this year and more than three times as much as the regular 1941 budgets for the armed forces.

Cuts Recommended

The committee recommended a cut of 6.1 per cent, or $241,005,450, for the navy, and 9 per cent, $647,903,000, for the army-air forces, from amounts President Truman had asked.

But both sums recommended are in addition to approximately $3,000,000,000 Congress recently gave the services to buy aircraft. The new funds are intended to build up army and air force personnel to a top strength of 1,234,500 and the navy and marine corps to 552,000.

Ask Opinion on Bible Gifts

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—(P)—An offer by Gideons International to present a Bible to every St. Louis public school student has been referred by the board of education to its attorney for a legal opinion.

The move to refer the matter was inspired by a recent court ruling on religious instruction in the city schools.

Previously the board overrode its attorney's opinion that voluntary religious instruction fell under the supreme court's ban in the McCollum case which arose in Champaign, Ill. The program was continued until a circuit court judge last week ordered it halted.

St. Louis representatives of the Gideons said they are ready to provide 46,000 New Testaments to school children.

Truman Appeals to Democrat Leaders to Pass 3 Measures

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(P)—President Truman made a new plea to the Democratic congressional leaders today for passage of housing, reciprocal trade and educational legislation.

Mr. Truman's appeal was made verbally at a White House conference as the senate stretched out its working hours in a bid to dispose of three bills labeled "must" by GOP leaders aiming at a June 15 adjournment.

House Minority Leaders Rayburn told reporters that the President also discussed some of the highlights of the five major speeches he is to make on a cross-country tour starting Thursday night.

Rayburn was accompanied to the White House by Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, Democratic national chairman; Senator Lucas of Illinois, Democratic senate whip, and Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, party whip in the house.

Interested in Adjournment Rayburn was asked by reporters what the prospects were for House passage of the long-range housing bill which has cleared the senate.

"It looks like they (the Republican leaders) are more interested in adjourning than they are in passing legislation," he said.

Legislation extending the reciprocal trade program has been passed by the House and hearings are under way in a Senate committee.

The federal aid to education bill has passed the Senate and is pending in the House.

Rayburn said the three measures are considered particularly urgent by Mr. Truman, although other phases of the legislative picture were gone over in the conference, lasting nearly an hour.

Cities Near SAAF Should Have More Houses, They Learn

Representatives from Warrensburg, Knob Noster and Sedalia, met Tuesday afternoon at a joint meeting held at the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, heard reports given on the Sedalia Army Air Field, given by Judge J. R. Garrison of Warrensburg and Frank W. Hayes, chairman of the State Democratic committee. The two men recently returned from Washington, D. C., where they went in interest of re-establishing the SAAF.

They went to Washington a week where they conferred with government officials regarding the status of the base, in regard to it being used for the Air Academy, similar to West Point and the U. S. Naval Academy.

Visited President Judge Garrison and Mr. Hayes, reported they visited with President Harry S. Truman, United States Senator James P. Kem, Congressman Marion T. Bennett, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughn, the President's aide, Eugene Zuckert, assistant Secretary of Air; General Mc Kee, assistant chief of staff of the air force; United States Senator Harold J. McGrath, and Congressman Clarence C. Cannon.

Shortly after Senator Kem had announced he was introducing a bill in the Senate known as H. R. 6536 "to establish a United States Air Academy at the Sedalia Army Air Base" and Congressman Bennett's companion bill in the House of Representatives, groups from the three cities met to discuss what they could do to assist their passage.

Judge Garrison and Mr. Hayes, who went to Washington to do what they could in favor of the base, either in the Air Academy bill or re-activate the base. They were informed in Washington that if the communities had at least 800 housing units, Sedalia would be taken from the bottom of the list of air fields under consideration and moved to among the top fields under consideration. However, it was indicated it was not necessary to build these units, but that assurance would be made they could be obtained if and when the base should be reactivated.

Talk Housing Project At a meeting Tuesday the housing project was discussed, and resulted in a plan to appoint an executive committee to continue an investigation regarding housing facilities. The three communities will also have promotion committees to go into the housing of each.

Attending the meeting other than Judge Garrison and Mr. Hayes, were: Kenneth Marr, Mayor Harry Garrison, Rep. Arthur T. King, Vern Allison, all of Warrensburg; Judge J. Walter Sibert of Knob Noster; H. D. Weatherly, of the Missouri Division Resources and Development Association, aviation engineer, and Art Brown, Industrial Engineer of the Missouri Division Resources and Development Association, both of Jefferson City; Robert M. Overstreet, Miss Hazel Palmer, Stanton Hudson, D. S. Lamm, Noel Tweel, Carl G. Schrader, Harry Naugle, John J. McGrath, Mayor J. H. Bagby, George Lockett, Al Silverman, William "Bill" Miller, John F. Zander, and D. Kelly Scruton, all of Sedalia.

Dike Breaks Cause New Flood Damage

Floating debris from Vanport City, Ore., moves past the Portland Meadows race track in the background as new torrents from the Columbia river smashed through dikes. Army engineers ordered all persons, except flood-fighters, to flee from an area stretching 120 miles along both sides of the Columbia river as the flood situation in the Pacific Northwest reached the proportions of a national calamity. Crest of River Moves Toward Pacific Ocean

Civilians Battle To Heighten Dikes In Threatened Areas

By William Phipps
PORTLAND, Ore., June 2.—(P)—The Columbia flood crest bore down on the Clatskanie area today in its rampage to the Pacific ocean. The river lapped less than three inches from dike top and was going higher.

Four hundred civilian volunteers struggled to heighten the nine dikes in the threatened area two-thirds of the way down the 100-mile barricaded stretch between Portland and the sea.

Behind the hard pressed earthworks is the town of Clatskanie. Its population of about 1,000 has been evacuated. So have residents in other districts of the area.

U. S. army engineers described the situation in the Clatskanie area as "critical." And it put the same label on five other areas, extending as far upriver as Portland where the crest passed yesterday.

Noted nowhere was the margin between safety and destruction as narrow as the cryptic "Freeboard two-tenths of a foot" reported by the engineers around Clatskanie.

Upriver, the most vital "critical" points were in the Sandy and Multnomah drainage districts along Portland's north and east-side skiffs. There 200 troops and 700 civilian volunteers fought to bolster flood-battered dikes and keep Portland's airport and the big Troutdale aluminum plant from inundation.

Other critical areas were Sauvie Island slightly downstream miles down and Deer Island, near the Oregon shore about midway between Scappoose and Clatskanie.

Of these the Scappoose area seemed in the greatest danger. The engineers said there was a combination threat of dike softness and only one and one-half foot freeboard. Troop-civilian teams battled soft dikes on the two islands.

Sunny Weather is Forecast for Today

CHICAGO, June 2.—(P)—Warm, dry sunny weather was forecast for most of the country today.

The only rain across the country fell in the southern Rockies and at a few points along the Canadian border in North Dakota.

Temperatures were expected to match yesterday's, which were mostly between 80 and 90 from the Rockies to the Appalachians, slightly lower in the east and in the 90's in sections of the south.

WASHINGTON, June 2—Prior to the Wisconsin primary, in which General MacArthur's presidential ambitions took their severest jolt, no Democratic leaders were enthusiastic about MacArthur's return to the USA. Since Wisconsin, however, they feel differently.

Shortly before the Wisconsin balloting, Joe Keenan, who has patriotically spent two long years in Japan prosecuting war criminals, made a personal report to the White House. During the visit, Keenan told President Truman about a conversation he had with General MacArthur in Tokyo.

"No hero's return for me," Keenan quoted MacArthur as saying. "If the president sends for me, I'd park my plane at the National Airport, drive to the White House report to the president and then fly back to Tokyo immediately."

President Truman, greatly interested, remarked that if he thought that was what MacArthur would really do, he was tempted to send for him right away.

Note—More recently President Truman has sent word to MacArthur advising him that he is welcome to return to the United States any time he chooses, if he wants to return and if he feels his absence from the Orient will not endanger our interests there. However, the president has made it clear to MacArthur that he will not exercise his authority as commander-in-chief to order him home.

GOP Nepotism

When Congressman Bishop of Illinois heard that a cripple, Lonnie Franklin, was being fired as Democratic house doorman in order to create a job for the son of Congressman Leo Allen, also of Illinois, Bishop remarked: "I would have fired Lonnie long ago. I understand he's a Democratic committeeman in So. Carolina."

What Congressman Bishop did not know was that the crippled doorman had been doing odd jobs for Bishop without pay. On that very day he had taken home 7,000 envelopes to address for the Illinois congressman after hours.

Secret New Lobby

A mysterious organization, called the foundation for economic education, has set up a vigorous lobby aimed at wrecking the European recovery program. It is now busy entertaining congressmen, writing statements for them and printing tons of propaganda. Behind the movement is Leonard Reed, brought to Washington last month by New York's Republican Congressman Ralph Gwinn. Reed started off with a dinner, attended by about 35 congressmen, at the fashionable Statler hotel. He has now organized a spearhead of isolationist congressmen who are trying to block appropriations for Europe.

Several other dinners have been held, but Reed has kept discreetly in the background. His contact man is Percy Graves, former assistant to Sen. Owen Brewster who now makes Gwinn's office his headquarters.

The congressmen working with the isolationist lobby include John Phillips of California, A. L. Miller of Nebraska, Howard Buffett of Nebraska, and Lawrence Smith of Missouri. Lawrence Smith of Wisconsin, Frederick Smith of Ohio and Daniel Reed of New York.

Heavy Fire Loss at Stockyards

Flames race with prairie fire speed through part of the South St. Paul Union Stockyards company in South St. Paul, Minn., destroying a 6-block section of the huge corrals, more than 80 cattle cars and about 30 head of cattle. Approximately 2,000 head of stock were saved. The blaze apparently originated in a shed of baled hay. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

All have made speeches and issued statements containing identical paragraphs. The material is prepared for them by Reed, mimeographed by a stenographic service and delivered to them by Graves. Reed also has furnished several thousand pamphlets for the congressmen to mail to their constituents.

Deep John L. Lewis

Deep and devious are the ways of John L. Lewis.

The other day a little noticed news item appeared in the papers. It said that Ray Edmundson, formerly of United Mine Workers' District 12, Illinois, had been given a job as director of the Kansas City office of District 50.

To the average reader this meant nothing. To coal miners it meant that John L. Lewis was taking back to his bosom his worst miner enemy. And to inside politicians it meant even more—that John L. was brewing high powered political medicine, probably had picked his Republican candidates for president and vice president.

Ray Edmundson used to be John L. Lewis' right hand man in Illinois. Later they broke, and Edmundson tried to run against Lewis for the UMW presidency. John L. however, permits no opposition to his rule, and Edmundson was kicked out of the convention hall.

They became bitter enemies. Few men in labor circles hated each other more. Lewis was even accused of trying to take an A. F. of L. salesman's union card away from Edmundson, when the latter, out of a mining job, started selling insurance.

However, Edmundson continued to have a political following among Illinois miners, and also carried weight in Illinois Republican circles. One of his friends has been astute Gov. Dwight Green, the Chicago Tribune's dark horse for the GOP nomination.

Lewis' Candidates

Last year Governor Green came near committing political suicide with Illinois miners and labor generally when 111 miners were killed at Centralia, Ill., after they had repeatedly protested that the mine conditions were bad and after a state mine inspector had reported that the mine should be closed. Instead it was kept open, and the mine owner sent a contribution to the Republican campaign fund.

At the time John L. Lewis cried "murder" at Secretary of the Interior Krug, significantly said nothing about Governor Green or the Republican Illinois leaders.

All of which may have bearing on the return of Ray Edmundson to an important job under John L. Lewis. For, before Lewis would take his most hated enemy, Edmundson, back under his wing, you can be certain a political deal was in the background.

So here is a prediction: Lewis' candidate for the GOP nomination will be Speaker Joe Martin, with whom he suddenly arranged for a settlement of the recent coal strike. Lewis' candidate for vice president on the Martin ticket will be Governor Green of

Pope Calls For Just Reforms

ROME, June 2—(P)—Pope Pius XII called today for "just and necessary social reforms" to solve problems "growing out of the ruin and revolution of the world and its aftermath." Not otherwise, he said, could "backward and embittered hearts" be won back to the "true concepts and sound ideas about the world and God." He invoked "earnestness, loyalty, energy and fairness" of "all men of right principles" for the task, citing especially the "urgent need to provide the poorer classes with housing, bread and work." To Catholics he gave the watchword, "watchfulness"—lest the enemy, whose identity he did not specify, "retake the ground so laboriously conquered." The speech, which was in Italian and lasted 25 minutes, was the pontiff's first major address since a Communist-led challenge was turned back in Italy's election April 18 and 19. It was in reply to greetings from 17 cardinals of the holy college on His Saint's Day. The pope's name is Eugenio Pacelli. His saint is St. Eugene.

The address came, coincidentally, on the second birthday of the Italian republic, celebrated nationally.

Her divorce from writer Si Wells will become final in December.

Graduates Told Hatreds Must be Forgotten

ST. LOUIS, June 2—(P)—Hatreds must be forgotten in the task of rebuilding the war-torn world, Dr. Kurt Von Schuschnigg, former chancellor of Austria, told 775 graduates in St. Louis university's commencement exercises yesterday.

Historians who have clung to the ideologies or resentments of a certain party are to blame for much of central Europe's troubles in the past century, he said.

Dr. Schuschnigg will teach in the university's department of history this summer.

Insurance Bill Signed Today By Governor

Also Measure to Plug Loopholes in Present Law

JEFFERSON CITY, June 2.—(P)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly signed today a casualty insurance regulatory bill which caused bitter controversy in the legislature.

Sponsors said it would allow casualty insurance companies to set their rates through competition. The governor predicted that method would give the public cheaper insurance.

Opponents, spearheaded by Sen. Floyd Gibson (D) of Independence, objected to the bill contained no real regulation because the state insurance superintendent would have no control over rate fixing. He labeled the bill monopolistic—a charge which was denied by its senate sponsor, Sen. David E. Horn (R) of St. Louis.

Power to Superintendent Donnelly noted the bill gives the insurance superintendent the right to examine insurance companies and rating organizations, and to revoke or suspend their licenses if rates are found to be excessive or inadequate to protect policyholders.

Gibson argued casualty rates ought to be fixed with the state insurance department, but he was defeated in his long floor fight.

The governor acted after listening to proponents and opponents at a private hearing yesterday.

The bill was sponsored as an attempt to prevent federal regulation of casualty companies. Under a United States supreme court decision insurance has been defined as interstate commerce. Sponsors of the bill said unless the state passed its own regulatory legislation, congress would step in.

The governor also signed one unemployment compensation bill designed to plug loopholes in the present law and vetoed another which would have allowed the unemployment compensation division to use funds for buying land and buildings.

In final tribute to our beloved president, E. F. Hausam, Jr., who passed away Tuesday night, this business will be closed all day tomorrow, Thursday, June 3rd.

The Hausam Company 200 West Fourth St.

OBITUARIES

E. F. Hausam, Jr. Edwin Fremont Hausam, Jr., died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home, 915 West Sixth street, at 1:30 o'clock this morning. He was ill about 30 minutes, and in a dying condition when Dr. J. W. Boger, who was called, arrived.

Mr. Hausam had apparently been in good health, although friends recalled that he had not looked so well the past week or so. He attended a meeting at his place of business, the Hausam Auto Equipment Co., 200 West Fourth street, Tuesday night. He had not complained of feeling ill, but awoke about 1 o'clock this morning, telling Mrs. Hausam he had a severe pain in his left chest and arm.

He called a physician immediately, but he rapidly grew worse.

Mr. Hausam was born in Dallas, Texas, February 3, 1888, and had lived in Sedalia about 55 years. He attended the Sedalia public schools, was graduated from the Sedalia high school in 1906, and for about 11 years was employed by the Fowler Packing Co.

He was married in 1914 at Leeton, Mo., to Miss Edith Staley, of the place. She survives, as do two daughters, Mrs. Jane Staley, wife of W. P. Staley, Jr., 1101 West Seventh street and Mrs. De Harrison, wife of Norman Harrison, Jefferson City, his mother, Mrs. E. F. Hausam, Jr., 826 West Sixth street and two grandchildren, Preston Staley and Fowler Harrison.

Mr. Hausam was president and manager of the Hausam Auto Equipment Co., which position he had held for many years. He was a member of the Broadway Presbyterian church, Masonic Lodge, a past president of the Country club, formerly a member of the Rotary club and during the war chairman of the Ration board.

He had taken an active part in the Chamber of Commerce activities, as well as in many social and civic affairs.

Probably when friends close to Mr. Hausam thought of him, they thought of his music. He not only was a talented singer, but played the piano as well. Often, after the orchestra had stopped playing for a dance "Ed" as he was called, would sit down at the piano and play for a small group of his friends who wanted to continue dancing.

Funeral services will be held at McLaughlin's chapel at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The Rev. Ralph A. Waggoner officiate, assisted by Rev. Herman Janssen. Miss Lillian Fox will play organ music.

Friends to serve as pallbearers will be: John T. Martin, Harold Yunker, Dr. W. J. Boger, Harold Courtney, Dr. Thomas W. Bast, Harold Dean.

Interment will be in Crown Hill cemetery, where the Masonic Order will conduct services.

Chester Baker Mrs. James Doty of 403 East Broadway received word Tuesday evening that her brother Chester Baker of Omaha, Neb., was accidentally killed Tuesday afternoon.

Both Mr. and Mrs. James Doty left this morning for Omaha to attend the funeral which will be held there Thursday morning.

Important Events In The World Today

LAKE SUCCESS, June 2.—(P)—The Arab countries qualified their acceptance of a four-weeks Palestine armistice with a demand today that the United Nations establish a special commission to supervise terms of the truce. The hour of cease-fire was left up to the security council, which meets at 12:30 p. m. (CST).

Both the Jews and the Arabs accepted yesterday the U. N. appeal for cease-fire. At that time the Jews listed five specific assumptions about the terms but a Jewish agency spokesman insisted that Israel's reply was unconditional.

CAIRO, June 2.—(P)—Arab nations informed the United Nations today that any truce which does not provide for a unified Palestine has no chance of success.

The detailed reply was an acceptance of the four-week armistice asked by the U. N., but it left the time of the cease fire to be decided.

While the Arabs and Jews debated the scope of the truce both accepted yesterday, gunplay continued in the Holy Land. Whether Israel's statement of "assumptions" regarding the four-week armistice and the Arab nations' reply would bring an effective armistice could not be said.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(P)—The senate stretched out its working hours today in a bid to dispose of one of three bills tagged "must" by GOP leaders aiming at a June 19 adjournment.

Acting Republican leader Wherry of Nebraska said he will hold the chamber in session "quite late" into the night if necessary to dispose of the measure designed to admit up to 200,000 war refugees into this country during the next two years.

That bill, a limited revival of the draft and extension of the reciprocal trade act beyond June 11 were the only ones posted on an admittedly tentative and incomplete list of measures which top Republican leaders have labelled for definite action.

Miss Kidd was a granddaughter of Mrs. Major Kidd and the late Major Kidd, the latter dying suddenly of a heart attack in Norman, Okla., May 25, three days before the girl was killed.

Miss Kidd was going to her home from Austin, Tex., where she had been in school. She was driving alone and a friend, also driving alone, was behind her. He saw the accident and said she was forced off the highway by a car and in turning back failed to notice a truck coming along, which ran into her, demolishing her car and killing her.

Burial was in San Angelo, Tex.

Human Relations
Important in Industry

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 1—(AP)—Ernest R. Breech, executive vice-president of the Ford Motor company told Drury college graduates that the "key to industrial opportunities lie in the field of human relations."

Breech, who worked his way through Drury college, said in his prepared commencement address that there never has been a time "when the industrial managers of our country were more aware of the social science problems of our times or were dealing more actively with them."

Many countries hold elections on Sunday because on that day the greatest number of voters can take part.

Twenty Million In Attendance This Season

Baseball in Major Leagues Outdrawing Last Year's Record

By Joe Reichler
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Thanks to the crowds which jammed the parks over the holiday weekend, the major leagues today are ahead of the record breaking pace of last year when they attracted an unprecedented total of 19,874,539 spectators.

Including yesterday's games, the 16 big league clubs have played to 4,976,889 paid admissions. At a corresponding date a year ago, the same clubs had drawn 4,853,034 persons.

At this rate, the majors will play to the first twenty million attendance in its history this season.

The Cleveland Indians averaging 32,706 persons per game, are setting the pace in attendance as well as in the American league standings, with a total of 556,068 in 17 home games.

The New York Giants, first place tenants in the National league, are also the circuit's best attraction. They have played to 438,131 in 19 games at the Polo Grounds.

A crowd of 44,779 saw the New York Yankees inaugurate the night season yesterday at the stadium as the Washington Senators, behind the five-hit pitching of Walter Masterson, defeated the Yankees 4-1.

Only 4,908 fans in Philadelphia saw the Boston Red Sox bump the Athletics out of first place in the American league 8-1. The defeat left the A's still a half game in front of the Indians, but the Tribe's won and lost record of 23-11 for .676 was nine percentage points better than the A's 26-13 for .667. The percentage is the deciding factor at the end of the season.

Eddie Jost, Athletics' bespectacled shortstop, finally committed his first error of the season after playing through 41 consecutive errorless games — 38 this season and three in 1947. The miscue ended a streak of 225 errorless chances. Both are new American league records.

The error occurred in the third inning when Jost threw Stan Spence's bouncer into the dirt while trying to catch a runner at the plate. Two men scored on the wild throw.

Whitely Lockman and Gil Hodges drove in four runs apiece as the Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers played an 11-inning 4-4 tie at Ebbets Field before 9,353 fans. The game was halted after 11 innings in order to allow both teams to catch trains.

No other games were scheduled in the major leagues.

The STANDINGS

NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—Major league standings, not including today's games:

American League
	W.	L.	Pct.	G.B.
Cleveland	23	11	.676	—
Philadelphia	26	13	.667	—
New York	21	16	.568	3½
Detroit	19	20	.487	6½
St. Louis	18	17	.463	6½
Washington	18	21	.462	7½
Boston	15	23	.395	10
Chicago	9	26	.257	14½
X—Technically Cleveland is half a game behind second place Philadelphia. However, since the games-behind-column is intended to show the number of games the teams are behind the first place team, Cleveland's games-behind space is left blank. Cleveland is the leader because of its higher percentage which is the determining factor.

Joe Louis, Inc., Looks Ahead of Walcott To Bigger Business With Lesnevich in Fall

By Harry Grayson
NEA Sports Editor

POMPTON LAKES, N. J.—Joe Louis sticks to the statement "Me and Mike (Jacobs) will both retire after this one. I will go to California and he will go to Florida."

But you may take that with a little sodium chloride on the side.

It is the opinion of those closest to the situation that Louis will be back at the old stand in September provided he comes through the second edition with Jersey Joe Walcott all right at Yankee Stadium June 23.

The Great Father of Camden will have to knock the champion into retirement.

After all these years, the long-term Brown Bomber winds up as a salaried white collar worker for Joe Louis, Inc.

Having proved that 51 per cent of his earnings comes from sources other than ring purses, Louis has it in writing from the internal revenue department that he is entitled to file a corporate income tax.

Roxborough Walcott

This reduces the assessment from 85 to 38 per cent, plus the individual return.

The wonder is that John Roxborough didn't get around to this earlier in the going.

It certainly gives Joe Louis, Inc., additional incentive to look smack through the return with Walcott to even bigger business with Gus Lesnevich in September.

Louis will be through with the tougher part of the training siege when he sidles through the hemp with Walcott.

A date with Lesnevich in the fall would be little more than an additional chore.

Louis gets in the corporate class through pictures, radio, television, exhibitions, a soft drink and whatnot. He was starred in a movie, you know, and the surprising action in his first meeting with Walcott, Dec. 5, made the fight pictures yield him more than $250,000, or three times his end for the match. They were, for example, the first Louis fight pictures exhibited in the south.

Roxborough, the real boss, says he will not urge Louis to fight again if he doesn't want to.

Asked if the man would be Lesnevich in the event Louis decided to go to the post once more, Roxborough replied: "Who else?" And he smiled in blissful anticipation of more important money ahead.

"Joe keeps saying this will be his last," says co-manager Marshall Miles, who has been closest to the titleholder in more recent years.

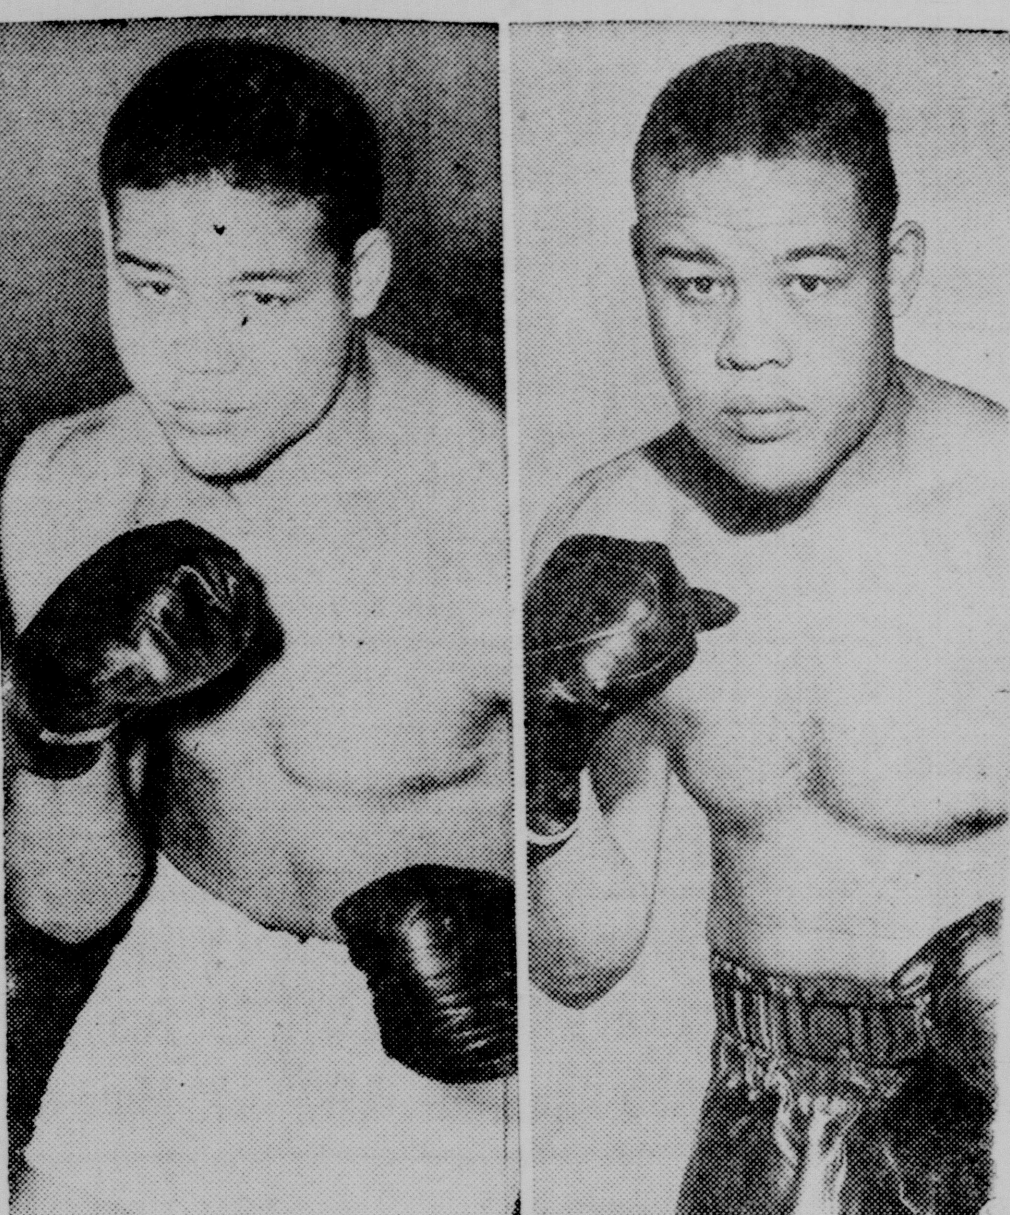

Asked if he believed it, Miles replied: "No. If you want my personal opinion it is that he will fight again."

As for Jacobs bowing out, you would never suspect that seeing the promoter personally dealing out $50 tickets in the Twentieth Century Sporting Club's bucks office on the mezzanine floor of Madison Square Garden.

And what difference would there be between Uncle Mike retiring and doing what he is? The organization runs itself. He only drops in from his Rumson estate by way of giving himself something to do.

Jacobs' health is vastly improved and he isn't one to toss a highly profitable business out the window into Eighth Avenue.

And as a member of the idle rich, Mike Jacobs, a hustler since

There is a considerable difference physically in the Joe Louis, left, who first attracted world-wide attention by knocking out Primo Carnera 13 years ago, and the one training at Pompton Lakes, N.J., for a return match with Jersey Joe Walcott.

Bench Show at Boonville Sunday

BOONVILLE, Mo., June 2.—(AP)—An amateur bench show for sporting dogs will be one of the features of the first annual Central Missouri Sportsman's show to be staged here Sunday afternoon, June 13, by the Boonville Rod and Gun club.

T. G. Woolsey, chairman of the dog show committee, said the competition will be divided into two general divisions, bird dogs and hounds.

Every dog entered will receive a token prize with ribbons and special prizes of packaged dog food going to the winners. A $5 cash prize will be awarded the grand champion.

Expert dog handlers and judges from Kansas City will direct the show.

Record Field in The U. S. Open

By Will Grimsley
NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—The record field of 1,418 which filed for the U. S. open golf tournament was reduced to a cozy 171 today with most of the nation's fairway giants still answering "Here."

The championship golf's most coveted prize will be contested June 10-12 over the Riviera country club at Los Angeles.

Defending titlist Lew Worsham of Pittsburgh got in automatically and thus didn't have to wrangle with par in yesterday's scattered sectional qualifying trials.

The tests produced good and mediocre golf—the best from a little known pro named Jack Harden of El Paso, Tex. — a hole-in-one and one notable casualty.

The big man who missed it was Jimmy Thomson, the veteran tournament campaigner from Los Angeles and Chicopee, Mass.

Thompson turned in a two-round 153 at San Francisco and fell one stroke short of qualifying.

The hottest round of the day was engineered in the torrid southwest. El Paso's Jack Harden

An Indianapolis-Columbus Series

By the Associated Press

Columbus opens a three game series at Indianapolis tonight with an outside chance of gaining the lead in the torrid pennant race.

The Red Birds are lodged in second place 3½ games behind the Tribe. Milwaukee and St. Paul follow, only 4½ games out of the lead. The Saints are at Milwaukee in the start of a two game set.

All Columbus has to do in order to reach the top is sweep the three game series — quite a neat trick. However, if this should be the case, Columbus would post a percentage of .617 and the Tribe would be cut from .653 to .615.

Only one game was played last night. Last place Kansas City nicked Milwaukee 4-3 behind young Dave Madison's eight-hitter. He allowed only one earned run.

Falstaff goes on a LOUISIANA HAYRIDE

The idea came out of a song. There seems to be something about the friendly, mellow flavor of a glass of Falstaff that blends with the memories of old favorite songs. Take the Kellers of New Orleans, for instance. Listening one night to the strains of "Louisiana Hayride," the idea came to them of having a hayride party built around that familiar song!

The idea came out of a song. There seems to be something about the friendly, mellow flavor of a glass of Falstaff that blends with the memories of old favorite songs. Take the Kellers of New Orleans, for instance. Listening one night to the strains of "Louisiana Hayride," the idea came to them of having a hayride party built around that familiar song!

The party was a big success. Their friends all came, dressed for the occasion in the oldest clothes they could find. All city folk, none of them had been on a hayride since they were kids. For entertainment, some musicians were drafted from New Orleans' famous "Court of Two Sisters." For good fellowship, Premium Quality Falstaff was the refreshment served. Somehow this old beer, steeped in the traditions of the heart of America, best fits the mood of the old tunes you love.

Hal Boyle's Column

By Hal Boyle
NEW YORK—(P)—Do you feel crowded?

Well, no wonder. YOU ARE GETTING CROWDED.

Every third breath you take somebody's born in the United States. But go on and breathe. If you held your breath an hour, it wouldn't cut down the population—except by one.

And that wouldn't help either. The cemeteries are getting crowded too. Practically everything's crowded. Cities, stores, offices, buses, trains, hotels, garages, bars, houses, streets, sidewalks. Even some churches. And all divorce courts.

About the only people today who complain they aren't crowded are night club or movie house owners.

Who's doing all the crowding? Mostly it's people. But cattle, milk cows, hogs, airplanes, cats, dogs and motor vehicles are also to blame. They all take space—and there seem to be more of them coming along all the time.

But it isn't the horse's fault. There were 26,493,000 horses and mules down on the farm in 1915. Last year there were only 10,024,000. And while the value of everything else went up, the average price of these plow-pulling out-burners dropped from $66.90 to $55.40. Nobody wants to trade his kingdom for a horse these days.

But to get back to what's really crowding us:

In 1790 the population was 3,929,264, and the only folks complaining about being crowded were the Indians. They have the same squawk today. They're just like prices—increasing, too.

The Golden Age

Let us skip the golden year of 1900.

There were then 75,994,575 people—look what Columbus started!—59,739,000 cattle, 16,544,000 milk cows, 48,105,000 sheep, 51,055,000 hogs, 20,995,000 horses and mules, and only 4,192 automobiles.

Think of it—only 4,192 squawking motor horns in the 2,977,128 square land miles that make up America!

But today, ah today! Look who's showing whom:

There are an estimated 145,000,000 people competing for elbow room with 81,058,000 cattle, 26,100,000 milk cows, 38,571,000 sheep (non-human), 56,901,000 hogs, 10,024,000 horses and mules—and 34,373,002 (1946 census) automobiles, trucks and buses.

If you are having trouble crossing the street, it is because all these vehicles traveled 340,655,000 miles in 1946—and more this year. Manhattan traffic cops are convinced all these 34,373,002 vehicles try to cross 42nd and Fifth avenue every afternoon at exactly 5:30 p. m.

No One Spared

Where can you go to get away from all this crowding? It's hard to say. Even women and children aren't being spared. In 1941 there were only 247 cases of triplet births and three of quadruplets.

In 1944 the triplet cases jumped to 286 and the quadruplets to 8. Civil service is no answer. There were 559,579 employees in 1929; in 1947—there were 1,849,781.

The center of population may provide a key. In 1790 it was 23 miles east of Baltimore, in 1940 two miles southeast by east of Carlisle, Ind. But next year it may be a mile west of Los Angeles or ten paces north of expanding Houston, Tex.

A Temporary Solution

The deserts of New Mexico hold a solution—but it's merely temporary. It is the fourth least densely populated state—4.4 to the square mile—but its birth rate of 27.7 per thousand citizens is far and away the highest in America.

Perhaps the best answer is to get that place in the country. There were 30,546,911 people on farms in 1930, only 27,550,000 in 1947.

But you'll have to hurry. There were 6,812,350 farms in 1935. In 1945 there were only 5,859,169.

That is still 5,859,169 more farms than the average New Yorker wants to live on. He'd rather be crowded.

Fined For Driving While Intoxicated

Three Negroes, Jesse Raymond Shannon, Marshall; Henry Alvin McDowell, and George Goodfry Butler, both of Kansas City, pleaded guilty in circuit court, Tuesday, on a charge of driving motor vehicles while intoxicated, and were each fined $75 and costs, and had their driver's licenses surrendered.

The three were arrested Monday night by State Highway Patrol troopers.

Previous to their being fined in circuit court, they waived a preliminary hearing in Magistrate court that day.

The original Siamese twins came from Bangkok to Boston in 1829 and 11 years later settled down as farmers in North Carolina.

Business Woman, Native of Kinsey's Town Solves 'Little Talk' Problem With a Book

Lois Pemberton (right) and daughter, Rhonda: The psychologists wouldn't know where to begin.

By James Thrasher
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK. —(NEA)—There comes a day when every parent of an adolescent child must face the ordeal of a "little talk" on the facts of life. All parents dread it, most of them fumble it, and some skip it altogether.

Two years ago Lois Pemberton realized the time had come for that "little talk" with her daughter Rhonda. And being an efficient business woman, Miss Pemberton (the Miss is for professional purposes, and she has spent most of her working years in the promotion and public relations fields) went about her task in a business-like way.

The result is a book called "The Stork Didn't Bring You," which the Hermitage Press is publishing late this month, three days before Rhonda's 14th birthday.

Miss Pemberton, who doesn't look much older than a bobby-soxer herself, began by getting a lot of books on sex education. She sent away for the booklets on the subject put out by the 48 state health departments. Having plowed through the required reading, she reached these conclusions:

Some of the books were aimed at parents rather than children.

Others obviously were written by physicians or psychologists with the principal purposes of impressing their colleagues.

Several dripped with saccharine sentimentality.

Still others were written in a way that would scare a child half to death.

There wasn't one that she could bring herself to give to Rhonda.

Next, Miss Pemberton talked to a number of parents whom she considered enlightened and progressive, and who had survived the "little talk" ordeal. But it turned out that they blushed and stammered and couldn't remember what they had said to their children.

So, the only thing that seemed left to do was tell Rhonda the facts of life as simply, frankly and intelligently as she could. The mother made a few notes on the essential information, and the daughter's questions suggested more notes. When it was all over Miss Pemberton had the old notes and a new idea—"Why not write a book?"

The writing job took six months. But the day that she took an outline to Arthur Ceppos, president of Hermitage Press was only the beginning.

"I knew the book would be a very difficult job," Ceppos says. "But after I had seen the first two chapters in the rough I also knew that Pen could do it."

Author and publisher started out to check their material with authorities in every field. They consulted psychiatrists, doctors, teachers and child guidance groups, and also officials of such organizations as the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., the Caroline Zachary Institute of Human Development, and the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Miss Pemberton discovered it was quite an assignment to attempt a book on a delicate and frequently mishandled subject which would pass muster with these various groups and still express her own convictions. But she received some enthusiastic and occasionally surprising co-operation.

The religious groups, according to Ceppos, took a less restricted position than the scientific groups. And the scientists were of sharply divided opinions. As one of them said, "If you were to get 50 child psychiatrists together, and ask them what knowledge was needed by parents and children, they wouldn't know where to begin."

It developed that most of the psychiatrists at first wanted to keep the book in the professional sphere. They shied away from informality. They were inclined to forget that their work dealt with the abnormal rather than the normal, and that children hadn't had these experiences that they were discussing.

But they finally came around to Pam's point of view. "The book is acceptable to almost all of the theories held by the child psychiatrists, and it embodies much of their positive therapy. Pen has synthesized the biological with the emotional."

After many revisions, the teenage facts of life in teen-age language were ready for submission to the ultimate authority—the teen-agers themselves. In Detroit the Y. M. C. A. gave copies to a group of youngsters and got a unanimously favorable report.

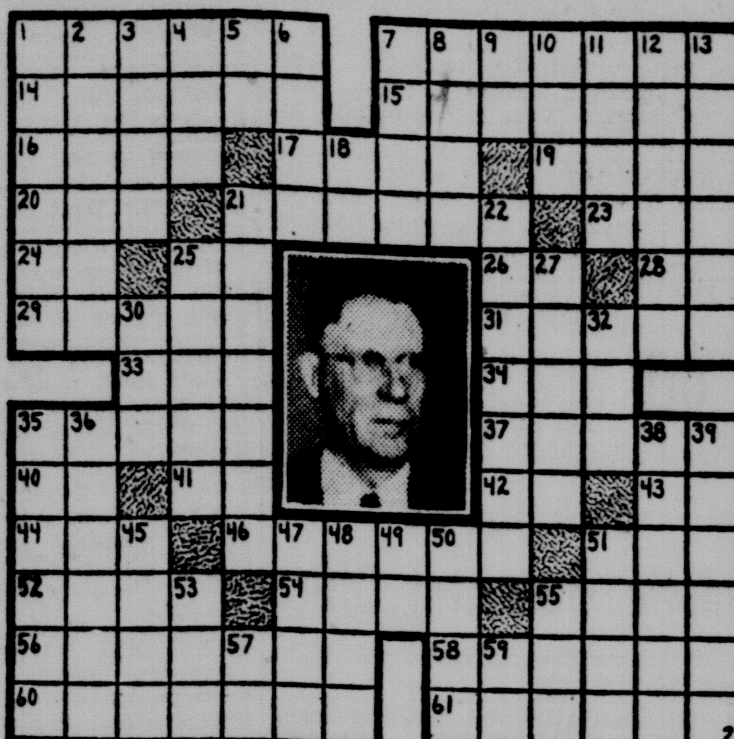

George B. Corwin, Senior Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. National Council, has informed the publisher that "We're glad to commend the book to our Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs and other teen-age groups in the Y. M. C. A."

search associate in psychiatry at Columbia University, has this to say about "The Stork Didn't Bring You": Miss Pemberton has made a big contribution. Her information is no different. The big thing is her language, which puts the emphasis on the right things.

Adolescents feel that the book is for them, and not something that has to be hidden and read secretly. It removes the sense of guilt, but at the same time it impresses on them a feeling of responsibility for their own attitudes and actions."

"The Stork Didn't Bring You" is Miss Pemberton's first book, and possibly her last. She doesn't have a college degree and she makes no scholarly pretensions. "I've never read Freud," she cheerfully confesses, "and the closest I've come to the Kinsey Report was to be born in Bloomington, Ind., where Dr. Kinsey now lives."

Concerned About Relatives in Kelso

Leo Coxon, of West Seventh street, is one Sedalian especially interested in reports from the flooded towns of the northwest because his father, J. L. Coxon and two sisters, Mrs. Ira Meeks and Mrs. Claude E. Zaring, are living in Kelso. Reports state citizens in South Kelso were ordered to evacuate Monday.

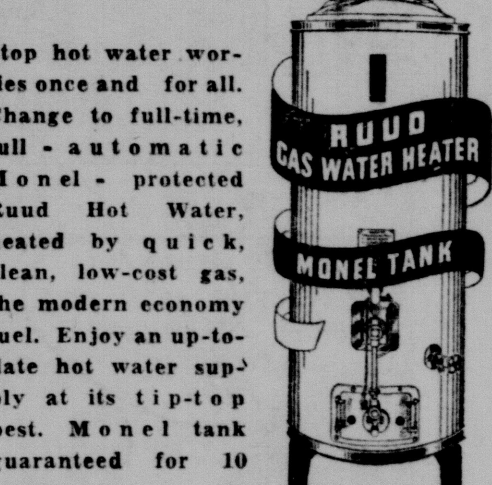

Mr. Coxon has wired his family, but so far has not received an answer. It is believed they have left Kelso and their present address may not be known to the telegraph office there.

Fined for Careless Driving

George Shelton, was arraigned before Magistrate W. M. Ilgenfrit, Tuesday, and pleaded guilty, and fined $5 and costs, for driving a truck, a 1947 Dodge, in a negligent and careless manner, by passing an automobile into the face of on-coming traffic.

He was arrested by the state highway patrolman.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

Dr. F. M. Fulkerson, dentist, who has been attending the annual meeting of the State Dental association, was one of five members of the Missouri society invited to conduct clinics at a meeting to be held in Indianapolis where the state societies of Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois meet.

A call was made to the Sedalia police this morning from Appleton City to send bloodhounds there to endeavor to track down a masked man who robbed the telephone station there. "Rough" and "Tough," dogs formerly handled by Dave Ramsey and Fred Robertson had "passed in their checks" and no other bloodhounds were here.

The paved streets of the city, west of Ohio avenue are being given a thorough cleaning under direction of Street Commissioner Wilson.

Rev. Fr. Daniel Healy, formerly of St. Patrick's church, now pastor of a Catholic church in North Springfield, Mo., is here for a brief visit.

J. S. McKelvey has begun carpenter work on the new church for St. Patrick's congregation on East Fourth street and will have it completed for start of work by the bricklayers within ten days.

ON the spur of the moment, Paul decided to return to London. He got out of the train at Liverpool Street, looked up Roger Dickson in a telephone directory, hesitated about phoning him, then decided it might be better to go right along and call in person.

A manservant answered the door.

"Mr. Dickson?"

"I'm sorry, sir. Mr. Dickson isn't at home."

"I see. You can't tell me where I could find him?"

"Well, no, sir, I'm afraid I can't. He should have been back this evening, but I've had a telegram to say not to expect him till the morning."

Paul took a tight hold on himself.

"He's out of town perhaps?"

"Mr. Dickson's been in Paris, sir, for the week-end. Would you care to leave a message?"

Paul's face was white and set. A tumult of emotion surged through him. Rage. Jealousy. And a very real anxiety.

"I don't think so, thanks. I'll call again."

"Very good, sir."

He turned away as the door closed upon him. Well, that was that! He shouldn't have been such a fool as to come chasing up to London. Hadn't he only got what he'd expected? Only what had he got for that matter? There might be 50 explanations as to why Roger Dickson was in Paris. It might even be that Patience wasn't with him. Or, if she were, perhaps they'd both gone over in a party. But supposing they hadn't? Supposing just the two of them had gone—

MORNING found him, after a sleepless night, wondering what was the best thing to do

The third molars are called wisdom teeth because normally they are not cut until a person is between 18 and 25 years old.

about it. Meet all the trains from Paris? Meet all the planes? Since he couldn't very well be in several places at once, this wasn't a very feasible proposition. On consideration, he decided to go to Dickson's flat again.

"Ah, yes, sir," said the manservant. "You called yesterday. Will you come in, sir?"

"Mr. Dickson's back?"

"Yes, sir. He arrived only a short while ago. I'll tell him you're here."

The man showed him into a sort of combined sitting and dining room. Paul admitted grudgingly to himself that it was exceedingly comfortable. Books lined the walls. There were deep leather arm chairs.

"You wanted to see me?"

He turned to find Roger standing in the doorway, disgustingly handsome in a red-and-white-striped dressing gown, a red silk scarf around his neck.

"I'm sorry. Please forgive me. The trouble is I've got such a shocking memory for faces. I know you, of course, but I just can't place you."

"You don't know me," said Paul aggressively.

Roger's brows drew together. It struck him that the young man looked white and strained, and rather as if he might be after his blood.

"But you know someone I know," went on Paul. "Patience Mond. Perhaps you'd be good enough to tell me where she is."

Roger looked at him.

"Is your Christian name Paul by any chance?"

Paul glared at him.

"Yes. But what's that got to do with it?"

"Only that she's mentioned you to me."

"Where is she?" demanded Paul hotly.

Roger held his temper. "Pa-tiency?" he said easily. "Oh, she's on her way back home to the country. I've just seen her off on the 8:40."

"Your man told me you'd been in Paris."

"So I have. I traveled back over night."

"Was Patience with you?"

Roger reached for a box of cigarettes, offered it to Paul who refused to have one, and lit one for himself. So this was what all the trouble was about!

"She wasn't with me exactly. I mean, there were other people there too. Her sister and another man, as it happened."

Paul started.

"Her sister?"

"Yes. Her twin sister, Charlotte."

"Jumping Jupiter!"

"I say, is anything wrong?"

Paul swallowed hard.

"Was the sister at a party given on the stage at the Apollo after that new show opened there a week or two back?"

"Sure. She's Carlotta. She's in the show. I say, you must be the young man who mistook her for Patience. Of course! I'd forgotten. Patience was most upset about it."

Paul pushed a hand back over his hair.

"This Paris business," went on Roger, "was a bit of an escapade. Unfortunately, Patience and I lost the plane home yesterday afternoon."

"Patience and I—?" Paul's jealousy stirred again. "How convenient!"

"Don't be silly," said Roger shortly. "If it had been convenient do you think we'd have traveled back by night on that awful New-haven-Dieppe route without even so much as a couple of berths? Incidentally it was whilst we were sitting up on deck beneath the stars that you came into the picture."

"I?"

Roger looked at him.

"Yes. From one or two things Patience let fall, I've an idea you matter a very great deal to her—"

Two Injured In A Collision North of City

Wollie Riley is Treated Here at Bothwell Hospital

Two persons were injured, about 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the car they were riding in and a second automobile crashed at the top of the Claycomb Hill, on north Highway 65, about 10 miles north. The accident occurred in front of the Bruce Claycomb farm. The drivers of both vehicles escaped injury.

The injured were riding in a 1936 Dodge sedan said to have been driven by Leslie James Tyler, Marshall. They were Frank Rose, 23, who suffered the fracture of five ribs and lacerations about the head and Wollie Riley, 22, who suffered shock and bruises.

Rose was picked up by a passing motorist and taken to Marshall, while Riley was taken to the Bothwell hospital in the Gillespie ambulance.

The second car was a 1933 De Soto sedan driven and owned by William Phillips, R.F.D. Sedalia.

Sedan Destroyed by Fire

The Dodge sedan caught fire and was destroyed while the De Soto was badly wrecked.

Riley was thrown from the Dodge sedan in front of the car and was pulled to safety by Mrs. Claude Kitterman, Mrs. George Bates of R.F.D. No. 1, Sedalia, Mrs. Sam Brooks of Borger, Texas, and a man who arrived on the scene. The women were returning to the Kitterman home from Sedalia when they came upon the wreck. The car had caught fire and Riley was on the ground when they reached him.

According to the State Patrol, Phillips was headed north on Highway 65 and the Dodge was headed south. Trooper Peter Stohr stated the marks on the road appeared as if the driver might have lost control of the machine and went off the highway on the right and pulling back the car went across the pavement and struck the oncoming De Soto.

Auto Wrecked In Hitting Bridge

A 1948 Oldsmobile five-passenger coupe was badly wrecked about 8:45 o'clock Tuesday night when it sideswiped into the concrete bridge on Highway 50 south of the Muddy Creek bridge. Three occupants of the vehicle escaped injury.

The car was driven by Roger Paul Stephens, 24, Cincinnati, Ohio, who was accompanied by Bob Felon and Lou Marelli, also of Cincinnati.

Stephens reported to the Highway Patrol he was headed toward Kansas City, and was in the act of passing another car, when the car crowded him into the bridge to his left. The Oldsmobile struck and dragged the entire length of the bridge, while the other car sped up and continued on westward.

The Patrol drove on to Knob Noster but was unable to find any trace of the car, other than a motorist reported to them while at the wreck a car had crowded him from the highway near LaMonte.
